

Carlie Thronber

Carlie is currently a 2nd year MScPT student at University of Toronto. She earned her Bachelor of Science in pre-medical biology in Tennessee where she was a part of the womens soccer program. She followed that up with a Master in Business Administration from Purdue University in Indiana before returning to Canada to pursue physical therapy!

She has coached youth soccer players all across Canada, the USA and even in Colombia! At present she is the head coach of a u11 girls team with FC Durham Academy.

When she's not in classes or coaching, she takes every opportunity to be outdoors hiking, biking, running, paddle boarding or skiing!

In this role she looks forward to learning from, and contributing to the learning of, other paediatric physical therapists and building her professional network for her future career in paediatric physio!
