Shirley grew up in Toronto, Ontario where she completed her BSc in Kinesiology at the University of Western Ontario. She then pursued her MSc in Physical Therapy and graduated in 2009. Shirley worked in the adults population in the public and private sectors before making the switch to Pediatrics after starting a family of her own. She now works at a location of Kids Physio Group in Vancouver, BC. She loves supporting families and their children in their journeys.

Outside of work, you can find Shirley running around with her husband and 3 young children. Their hands (and hearts) are literally full.
