

Raya Racio

Raya is currently in her final year of studies as a Master of Physical Therapy student at the University of Manitoba (U of M) after completing her Bachelor of Science degree in 2021. Her previous employment and volunteer experiences primarily with the U of M and various non-profit organizations allowed for opportunities to work with and advocate for youth and young adults in her local community. As a result, she developed an interest in pediatric physiotherapy and plans to further expand her knowledge and skills in the area through engaging with the CPA Pediatric Division. Outside of school and/or work, you can find Raya spending time outdoors (going on walks, running, hiking or biking), journaling, hanging out with friends and picking up a new hobby or project!
