Samara believes that every child has the right to participate in fun and meaningful activities. She completed her Masters in Physical Therapy and Bachelors of Science in Kinesiology with Distinction from the University of Alberta in 2016 and has been working with kids ever since. Samara's passion for children led her to volunteer with kids with disabilities and become a certified Children's Yoga Instructor. She's a firm believer in the magic of movement, transforming lives for the better! Samara champions family-centered care, valuing the wisdom of both children and their families. Samara has worked in schools, hospitals and both urban and rural communities. Seeing the interconnectedness of all sites supports her passion to share knowledge and gain new experiences working with not only physical therapists but other members of a child's support team. Samara is settled in Edmonton, Alberta, residing there with her husband and daughter. Prior to that she spent the last 8 years living between Hungary, China, Russia, and Scotland with her husband. Besides her love for family and friends, you'll often find her exploring nature's wonders or diving into captivating books.
